NAZI FLIERS RAID MOSCOW

Thousands Of High Explosive
Bombs DroppedFive And One-Half Hour
Assault Comparable With Attacks On London

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
German Luftwaffe pilots reported they left great fires raging in the heart of Moscow today, while in the field the Nazi high command asserted that the leadership of Russia's Red armies was crumbling under the impact of the month-old blitzkrieg invasion.

DNB, the official German news agency, said that Nazi warplanes also blasted retreating Soviet troops, columns, railway lines and tank concentrations along the entire eastern front and that a number of trains on the Leningrad-Moscow line were derailed by bombings.

While the Germans declared Moscow was hard hit by thousands of incendiary and high-explosive bombs, showered down in a five and one-half hour raid during the night, dispatches from the Soviet capital itself said the assault was "comparatively harmless."

Berlin described the raid as "one of the heaviest carried out by the German air force," comparable with the Luftwaffe's fiercest attacks on England.

On the fighting front, Adolf Hitler's high command asserted that Nazi breakthrough operations "have torn the Soviet defense into a number of disconnected groups."

"Despite stout local resistance and stubbornly conducted counter-attacks, uniform leadership of the enemy no longer is apparent," the German communiqué said.

"On the entire east front, operations aiming at the crushing and destruction of individual groups of the Soviet armed forces continue steadily."

Find Going Rough
In comparison with previous communications, the Nazi high command's mention of both "stout" resistance and "stubborn" Soviet counter-attacks indicated that Hitler's invasion armies were finding the going rough. The high command declared that the attack on Moscow was "in retaliation for Bolshevik air raids on our capitals of the allies, Bucharest (Rumanian) and Helsinki (Finland)."

It was Moscow's first raid of the war.

Tokyo Prepares
For Anticipated
Typhoon TonightTrain Service Suspended
And Ships Warned To Seek Shelter

Tokyo, July 22.—(UP)—The weather bureau predicted late today that a typhoon would strike Tokyo tonight to climax 10 days of almost continuous rains which, police announced, had flooded more than 12,000 homes in the Tokyo area.

Virtually all train service out of Tokyo was suspended as a result of the floods and landslides.

A typhoon is a tropical type of cyclone which originates at sea and combines torrential rains followed by winds of hurricane force.

The weather bureau predicted that by tomorrow night the rainfall would be the greatest in the city's history.

Ships Warned
For the last 48 hours ships have been warned to seek shelter, especially in the Tsuruga and Sagami Bay areas.

Tsuruga is on the west coast of the main Japanese island of Honu, about 50 miles north of the ancient capital of Kyoto.

Japanese newspapers warned that the storm was of exceptional intensity and said that results of the prolonged rain and high wind would be "epoch making."

The Japanese weather bureau reported that 27 inches of rain have fallen on Oshima island, 60 miles southwest of Tokyo, in the past 96 hours and predicted that seven inches of rain will pour down on Tokyo tonight.

Concern Over Crops
Concern over Japanese food crops was increasing. Agriculture Minister Hiroyasu Ito reported to Emperor Hirohito on the situation after telling the press "there is nothing to worry about."

Despite the minister's assurances, extensive damage particularly to vegetable crops was reported and fear was felt for even the rice crops unless the rains halt.

A strong wind was sweeping Tokyo this evening.

Three Hurt, One Seriously,
In Highway 49 Accident

Three persons were injured, one seriously, in a crash involving two cars and a truck at 3:55 o'clock Monday afternoon on highway 49, one-half mile south of Manteno.

Margaret Harvey, 18, of Manteno, driver of one car, is a patient in St. Mary hospital with a fractured hip and her mother, Mrs. Helen Harvey, wife of Undertaker V. C. Harvey of Manteno, has lacerations and contusions about the face, arms and body. Delane Bogard, 34, of Manteno, the truck driver, received treatment in Manteno for minor hurts.

Truck Telescoped
Bogard, northbound in a new truck, stopped on the highway waiting for the southbound Harvey car to pass so that he might proceed on the gravel road angling to the left. The third vehicle, also northbound and driven by Paul Ritter of Manteno, crashed into the rear of the truck, forcing it directly into the path of the oncoming Harvey vehicle.

and telescoping the truck between cars, according to a report in the office of Sheriff Dan Bergan.

About one month ago the Harvey car was involved in a freak accident, not the fault of the driver, which this time was Mrs. Harvey. She was driving south on highway 49 at night near Manteno when a large dark object crashed into the front of the car and rolled up over the windshield and top.

No other vehicle was in sight at the time. The occupants began to wonder if it could possibly have been a bomb or some kind of object dropped from the sky. When deputies arrived at the scene, they found a truck stopped a half mile down the road. A wheel and tire had come off the dual-wheeled van and rolled out onto the highway several moments. The fire wheel caused considerable damage to the Harvey car.

Attempt To Burn Russian
Capital Failed

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, July 22.—(AP)—The German air force tried last night to burn out Moscow as it burned out parts of London, but it failed.

From sunset to dawn I watched a squad of Russian home guards toss incendiary bombs off the roofs and put out fires.

The raid over, life surged back through the city in the early morning as though it were noon, when thousands take their mid-day stroll.

The sirens whined just as the setting sun cast a glow in the sky. Then an ominous voice came over the loudspeakers warning everyone to go to their shelters.

I went to the ground floor apartment of my building which is headquarters of the house committee.

An 18-year-old boy who had been watching the roof, soon came into the room with his bare head soaking wet, and his red shirt open at the throat, rubbing his fireproof gloves.

He said that an incendiary bomb had landed on the roof, but that he threw it into the courtyard. We were skeptical of his story at first, but found evidence in the burned out metal tube about a foot long.

Small bombs were dropped all along the street, which is in a quiet residential quarter far from the central and industrial quarters. But only one house was burned.

As the raid continued through the night, watchers on the roofs replaced one another in relays. The automatic telephone continued to function throughout the raid, and the workers kept in constant touch with other nearby headquarters.

Daylight showed that what had seemed in darkness to have been a withering attack, had been, in fact, a comparatively harmless raid.

19 Animals
Eliminated In Rabies Drive

The police drive on stray animals during the rabies quarantine established here by state veterinarians resulted in disposal of 19 Monday and last night.

Sixteen dogs and three cats were shot under authority of the quarantine which provides for immediate disposal of all dogs not confined at home or kept on leash when on the street.

Chief of Police L. B. Rogers advised owners of dogs that the best place for them at present is in confinement at home. A dog infected with hydrophobia is said to be able to spread the disease through its footprints. Another dog then may contract it by licking the spot.

Speed Cause
Of Tragedy Says
Inquest JuryVerdict Suggests A Campaign Against
Reckless Driving

Recommendations that the city council increase the size of the police force to wage war on fast and reckless drivers, and that the traffic committee make a study of southside traffic conditions with the view of designating stop streets, were made by the jury at the inquest yesterday into the tragic auto deaths of Mrs. David Wood, wife of the city treasurer, and Charles Hasegawa of Chebanse route 1, last July 11 at Fifth and Hawkins streets.

The inquest was concluded by Coroner Ed P. Madison on Monday afternoon, following which the jury determined that the two deaths were the result of excessive speed on the part of both drivers involved in the crash.

Neither driver was ordered held, but the recommendations to the city council were plain:

1. "That the council provide the police department with needed help that they may conduct an extensive drive against reckless and fast driving by making more frequent arrests and inflicting more severe penalties than are now established for traffic violations."

2. "That the traffic committee of the council make a study of traffic conditions on West Hawkins street and the north and south streets which intersect with the thought in mind of designating by ordinance some stop streets in this locality."

Offerman Testifies
The only witness on the stand Monday afternoon was Milton Offerman, 20, 1194 South Sixth avenue, one of the drivers. He was questioned at length about his movements before the crash and about the degree of care and caution he exercised just before the accident. Similar procedure was followed during the morning when the other driver, Fred Rogers of Kankakee route 1, testified.

Depositions were read from Mr. Wood, Mrs. Hasegawa and Dr. J. A. Brown.

Members of the coroner's jury were William Spillane, Ed Nelson, Herbert Hess, C. M. Burch, Phil Besse and Joe Johnston.

Corpse Baskets
Frighten Thieves

Being an undertaker does have its advantages.

When thieves raised a window in the residence of Mortician William Yates, 1220 South Washington avenue, and stared at two baskets the size of coffins last night, the thought of corpses must have frightened them away.

Next door, however, thieves obtained about $2 in change after prowling through the Elmer Knight residence, 1243 South Washington avenue.

Boy Scouts To Do Collecting
Of AluminumAdditional Place Of
Donation Provided
By Vets' Council

An additional depository for the collection of scrap aluminum for defense purposes has been established in the yard of the American Legion home. It was announced today by the Kankakee Veterans' council, designated by Mayor Albert F. Hattenger to carry on the campaign.

The other depositories are at the two fire stations, the courthouse lawn and the southwest corner of Court street and Schuyler avenue.

Boy Scout Canvass
Boy Scouts of the city have been asked to meet at the American Legion home Thursday morning at 9 o'clock to make a canvass of the city. Use of trucks has been donated by the city.

Some of the articles donated locally are an antique trophy, meat grinder, pots and pans, coffee pots, a tumbler for a washing machine, candlesticks and a lamp stand.

In Chicago a contributor left an artificial leg, a small boy handed over an ice-cube tray and then wondered "What will Maw say?" and there were lots of cocktail shakers, hair curlers and a profusion of pots and pans.

All of this was in the name of national defense as Illinois pushed its drive to collect 1,000,000 pounds of old aluminum by next Saturday night.

Campaign State-Wide
The drive was launched yesterday throughout the state and in several localities it was marked by house-to-house appeals, civic demonstrations, etc.

In Chicago it was estimated that some 40,000 volunteers were on the hunt for the defense-precious metal. High school students, Boy Scouts and others participated.

In Pekin Mayor J. Norman Shaden announced that Ted Kahn, president of the Illinois Iron and Metal company, contributed the scrap metal firm's entire supply of scrap aluminum.

In Sterling the drive was under the supervision of Mayor Frank E. Birch. Early reports showed more than 700 pounds of aluminum received.

In Springfield, Governor Dwight H. Green urged all state employees to deposit castoff utensils in a pile on the capitol grounds near the Archives building.

Kiwanians Show Imagination In Telling "Alibis"

More than 40 Kiwanians attended the club luncheon Monday noon in McBroon's cafe, but only about half of them participated in the program going out to Kankakee airport to take plane rides over the city.

The variety of excuses which came up with the Kiwanians suddenly came up with was amazing. The ones who did go up were ready for their venture in a brief reassuring talk by the Rev. E. J. Cousineau, "flying priest" of St. George.

The pilots who took up the Kiwanians included Rotarians Maurice Cooper and Waldo Roth as well as Delbert Koerner, Paul Manneuve, W. F. Brandenburg, Donald Cooper and Fred Dismay of Sheldon.

Taft Proposes 16 Months For
TraineesMany Opponents To Plan
To Extend Service
Indefinitely

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) proposed today that congress limit the service of selectees, reserves and national guardsmen to 16 instead of the present 12 months.

Taft laid this proposal before the senate military affairs committee after a group of witnesses, most of them opponents, had testified on the effects of pending proposals to extend indefinitely the period of service for citizen soldiers.

Chairman Reynolds (D-N.C.) directed that Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, be queried as to the effect of Taft's plan, which the Ohio senator said would provide for the release of 75,000 draftees from the army each month, with none serving more than 16 months.

How Taft Plan Would Work
As outlined by Taft, the proposal would provide the army with 1-272,000 trained officers and men at all times. The remainder of a 1-948,000 total force would be made up of those undergoing preliminary training.

As new selectees were brought in at the rate of 75,000 a month, he said, the reserve would be increased by that number.

Gen. John McAuley Palmer, retired, told the committee today it was his opinion that Adolf Hitler, in order to accomplish his aims, must "conquer or encircle the United States."

The Rev. A. J. Muste, representing the fellowship of reconciliation, opposed the legislation on the grounds that if "decent pay" were offered, sufficient army volunteers could be obtained without what he

City Council
Designates New
Stop StreetsNames Committees
To Study Traffic
Conditions In City

Ordinances creating certain stop streets and prohibiting heavy truck traffic on bituminous surface thoroughfares were passed by the city council at its meeting Monday night.

After a discussion of the fatal crash July 11 at Fifth and Hawkins streets, the board also named committees to study southside traffic conditions and make definite recommendations for better regulation of speeding. The committee in charge of traffic and police, chief of police and the Fourth ward aldermen.

Trucks Banned
The new heavy traffic law bans all bituminous surface streets in Kankakee (except North and South Schuyler avenues) when the weight of the truck plus its load is more than 10,000 lbs. Fines of $5 to $10 are set up for each offense. Heavy trucks are said to be causing serious damage to the "black top" type streets in the city.

In that regard, a communication from the district state highway office recommending that all trucks be prohibited on North and South Harrison avenues was referred to the ordinance committee in conjunction with the state gas tax engineer.

New Stop Streets
Stop streets created by ordinance last night after several weeks of study by committees are those at the Mulberry and Greenwood intersection, the Oak and Harrison intersection. Fines of $5 to $200 are provided for each offense by ordinance.

A motion approving action of the state department creating rabies quarantine here, effective until further order, and extending council cooperation in the drive to stamp out this infection among dogs and cats was passed on motion of Huntington James, Second ward.

Referred to the ordinance committee was the communication of the Kankakee Beauty Operators association, asking to have an ordinance for control, location and operation of beauty parlors in Kankakee. The letter signed by J. H. Lucas, president of the association, asks that such enterprises be classified as industries and regulated as such.

The International Association of Chiefs of Police addressed the council in a letter seeking to have the Kankakee chief attend a conference on national defense measures Aug. 18-19 in Buffalo, N. Y. It was referred to the chief on motion of Alderman James Lamb, Second ward.

Former Mayor Of Peoria Senate Doorkeeper

David McClugage Is Well Satisfied With His Job In Washington

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—From mayor of a city of 100,000 population to doorkeeper of the United States senate may seem a comedown, but David McClugage thinks it's all right.

McClugage ought to know. The jovial, rotund, little 61-year-old bachelor left Peoria, Ill., in May of this year after completing four years as mayor and took up the job of senate doorkeeper. He did not seek reelection as mayor.

"I thought I'd like to go to Washington and work," he explained. "so I asked the senator (Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois) to see what he could do for me, and here I am."

The "here" in this case was a swivel chair just outside one of the three main entrances to the floor of the senate. It is now McClugage's "office." His duty is to see that no one enters unless he has a right to, and to keep the general public from proceeding down the hallway beyond the door. McClugage handles the job with the diplomacy of a veteran politician. He interrupted an interview as a party of sight-seers walked down the hall.

"I'm sorry, ladies," he explained almost apologetically, "but you can't go beyond here."

Likes His Job

McClugage likes his new job, although the approximately $1,600 salary it pays annually is far less than he was accustomed to as mayor of Peoria.

"It is quite a relief not to have so much responsibility for a change," he said. "Being mayor of any city the size of Peoria involves a lot of responsibility and a lot of headaches. I like it here and I think I'll stay awhile. I've wanted to live in Washington ever since 1912, when I stopped here while attending the Democratic national convention in Baltimore."

McClugage's friends "in the know" don't doubt that he'll stay here for some time, but they would be surprised if he stayed in the relatively minor job of doorkeeper for any length of time. Something better is expected to be offered him before long.

McClugage has been in politics almost all his life. He served in the Illinois house of representatives from 1920 to 1934, worked in the internal revenue office in Peoria and Chicago for six years, was assistant superintendent of old-age pensions in 1936, and served as mayor from 1937 to 1940.

"I guess you'd say my business is politics," he said jokingly.

Drive For Old Aluminum Begins Today

Veterans' Council Is Named By Mayor To Do Collecting

Help forge fighting wings of shining metal for U. S. eagles!

This was the plea today of a committee from the Kankakee Veterans' council designated by Mayor Albert P. Hattenburg to conduct this week's campaign in Kankakee which is part of the nation-wide roundup of scrap aluminum for defense industries.

The light, durable and shiny metal is especially needed in military aircraft plants.

Pots and Pans

If you have old kitchen pots and pans, refrigerator trays, washing machine tubs, vacuum cleaner parts, or any other items made of aluminum, give them to the veterans' council, composed of representatives from various veterans' organizations in Kankakee.

Take them to the box in front of the courthouse to the box at the southwest corner of Schuyler and Court street, or to either of the fire stations.

If you have some article of aluminum too unwieldy to handle yourself, or if it is not convenient to visit one of these receiving stations, call the American Legion home any afternoon this week after 4 o'clock. The 40 and 8 society's locomotive and boxcar will make a visit to your home.

Vets Committee

The veterans' council committee which is in charge of the local campaign is composed of P. T. Lambert, representing the United Spanish War Veterans; Darwin Durham, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Edward J. LeBeau, American Legion; William Meyers, 40 and 8 society; and Yvon Dandurand, Disabled American Veterans.

National Aluminum week in Illinois has been proclaimed by Governor Dwight H. Green who has set the Illinois quota at 1,000 pounds, five per cent of the national quota.
